Appellation: Aix en Provence, France

Grape varieties:

The delicious blend of Grenache, Cinsault and Syrah is a selection of the best fruit from the Coteaux d'Aix en Provence. The beauty of Cinsault is its wonderful perfume, which comes through in Soleillades, named for the sun.

Terroir: Silicious rock and chalky soils.

Vinification: Direct pressing and fermentation at controlled temperatures.

Tasting Notes :

Cherry pink colour and aromas of raspberry, quince and wild strawberry with honeysuckle hints.

Juicy summer fruit flavours with red cherry to the fore and ripe peach in the background. Dry, fruity and refreshing with a good long finish that has plum notes coming through. Deliciously fresh.

Wine & Food pairings: A fantastic food wine, as well as being an enjoyable drink in its own. Enjoy as an aperitif or will perfectly accompany appetizers, salads, sushi, charcuterie, grilled fish and chicken.

Serving :

Ready to drink now. Caution: Do not serve too cold, 10 to 12°C is ideal. If chilled much colder than this the lovely aromatic character is lost.
